OUR STORY

Brookes & Hyde began as a senior thesis study back in 2014. While studying Industrial Design at the University of Cincinnati, I was introduced to the accessory industry through a school internship. While at my internship, I began to see a shift in the American market and an appeal for luxury, American made goods. People were buying less mass-produced products, and more brands that were focused on quality materials and niche designs that would speak to their lifestyle. What began as a senior thesis project in 2014 quickly expanded into a small batch leather goods company operating out of a small two car garage. I slowly grew the brand over the years, expanding the line and outgrowing the garage to an 8,000 sq ft manufacturing facility today. My vision has always been to grow the brand organically, sharing my products and dream with each person I meet.

My passion is in the timeless craftsmanship that it takes to make each product, enriching my skills every day to create new and better products. Brookes & Hyde began with one goal in mind: create a product line that challenges the way we perceive luxury through high-end leather goods handcrafted, using time honored traditions and modern designs. When I originally launched Brookes & Hyde, I had 2 belt designs and was working from a small table in my parent's garage. Today, our brand carries over 150 belt styles, and is ever growing. The entire line is still made in house and in small batch production to ensure every customer's needs are met. I feel extremely blessed that I have been able to make a living doing what I love, and I am grateful to everyone that has supported the brand. I look forward to sharing my adventures with you on this journey as the brand continues to grow and you all become a part of the story.

OUR PROCESS

Based in Cincinnati, Ohio, our factory gives every customer a chance to create each product to their liking. In our design studio, every belt and small leather accessory is developed from the sketching stage to the final product. From finishing each edge by hand to focusing on the smallest details of each product, we have a passion for creating things the good, old-fashioned, workmanship way where attention to detail is second to none. Made in the USA is important to us, and each product is handfully crafted for a lifetime of use.

Quality over quantity is something we stress everyday, with every product we design and make. We want our products to be a reflection of the time and effort that goes into making them, lasting a lifetime and more. Being a small batch manufacturing company, we are able to meet each customer's needs from custom stitch colors to one-of-a-kind exotic belts and even monogramming on any product. While most brands outsource their manufacturing, ours is kept in house and small batch, allowing us to work with you to create the best possible product for your customers.
